

Patricia Brazier

Pat was constantly reading and learning something new about Jesus, who she adored. Pat was very active in the Grace Communion Nashville congregation, helping with the Community Café free meal every Sunday, and with the Growing in Christ discipleship class. She also served on the pastoral care team, partnering with the pastor in attending community meetings and helping at community service projects and events. She was a loving mother and a caring friend, and was a compassionate neighbor to all she met.
